seniors

the class of 1969 marked its final year at malabar as one of hard work and determination . . . the choice of an appropriate college was just one of the important decisions the class members were called upon to make as they planned for the future . . .

homecoming, honoring senior jody lantz, was one of the major activities of the year . . . using the setting of grecian paradise, the members of the class worked together to make this year's homecoming successful . . . other highlights included the class play, our town and the annual sale of christmas trees which proved to be the major financial project of the year . . .

the year ended in a bustle, with everyone's preparing for the final days at malabar . . . farewells were tearfully expressed, mingled with the joy of successfully completing the high school years . . .

successful negotiations between the faculty advisory committee and student council made a "student commons" possible for seniors this year . . . a pride week was also sponsored by student council, the idea behind it being to instill school pride in the students and to regain our coke machine . . . numerous other projects, such as the collection for the student civic fund, the filling of christmas baskets, mock elections for presidential candidates, and the annual talent show, were conducted through student council, which was led by a fine slate of officers, dave goldman, dave patton, becky thoman, barb ferris, and adviser, miss kauf . . .

boys' state and girls' state two of the 1500 representatives at boys' state were malabar delegates, mike beard and greg woerth . . . they journeyed to ohio university in athens, ohio on june 13, 1968 and remained until june 21 . . . greg ran for and won the office of clerk for the senate, while mike was elected to the house of representatives . . . both agreed that one of their most interesting experiences was when governor james a. rhodes spoke to the entire delegation . . .

... barb ferris, malabar delegate to girls' state, attended the conference at capitol university in columbus, ohio from june 17-24 . . . she spent an exhausting week campaigning and was appointed to the office of superintendent of the budget at the conclusion of the week

... mike, greg, and barb all agreed that it was interesting to learn about the operation of state level government through actual experience . . .

exchange students

becky thoman, rizza dacosta, jan wilson

some of the experiences encountered by an exchange student were familiar to rizza da costa even before she entered the u.s.a. . . . during the summer of 1967 she had hosted, in her home town of belo horizonte, brazil, an exchange student from america . . . this influenced rizza's decision to apply to the a.f.s. exchange program . . . the competition was stiff, with about one hundred students petitioning for the honor of becoming an exchange student . . . after the eliminations were completed only seven remained; rizza was one of them . . . rizza entered the u.s.a. in august and joined her american family, mr. and mrs. woodrow wilson and their children, barb, tom, jan, and bob . . . rizza recalled that the best experience of her stay was a surprise party given in honor of her eighteenth birthday by her sister jan . . . becky thoman, malabar's exchange student abroad, resided in both bielefeld and breman, germany . . . after completing a ten-day cruise, becky met her first german family, the erich schaefers, who hosted becky from july 1 through august 18 on their small dairy farm . . . then, four days before her return voyage, becky journeyed to breman, germany where she acquired a new family, the munzbergs . . . while in germany, becky traveled to such places as bonn, the east german border, the baltic sea, and the rhine . . .

"this is the story of our growing up; our living; our marrying and our dying," states the stage manager of thorton wilder's our town . . . this classic play was presented by the senior class and directed by mr. earl heasley as his final production . . . the stage setting was unique with only a few props, most of which were assembled by the stage manager as the story progressed . . . the last act centers around emily, who dramatically releases her hold on the living world with "oh, earth, you're too wonderful for anybody to realize . . ."

mr. earl heasley's drama I and II classes continually presented plays, both comic and tragic, for interested english classes, visiting cardinal conference delegates, and for their own enjoyment and entertainment. . . some of the plays which were presented included; (from top left to bottom right) cloudburst, to burn a witch, maiden's prayer, gloria mundi and little darling. . .

shelly weber, harry miller, sue dandareau.

the choir presented amahl and the night visitors, an operetta, as part of the annual holiday noel . . . amahl, a poor crippled boy who lived with his mother, encountered the kings on their way to find the child . . . amahl's mother attempted to steal the king's gold for the benefit of amahl, but was discovered by the kings . . . when amahl tried to stop the kings from hurting his mother he fell and when he stood up he was no longer crippled, but cured because of his righteousness and faith . . . he then journeyed with the kings to present his crutch to the christ child . . . the major characters were double cast with two grade schoolers, doug cook and tom dutton as amahl . . . betsy snider and lawanda braggs portrayed amahl's mother while clint johnson, ben stewart, rick brudgaae, dave larson, and pat boterf were the kings . . .

resourceful leadership and effective class participation combined to make the junior year of the class of '70 an enthusiastic and productive one . . . the hard work of the candidates competing for class offices reflected the concern of all the students for their class' success . . . the results of the close election, involving three run-offs, were chris crittenden, pres.; lee williams, vice pres.; barb hopp, sec.; glenn bosko, treas. . . . the determination for success displayed by the juniors was maintained throughout the year . . . during ram week the class of '70 led malabar in spirit as its bonfire pile rose higher and higher and additional rewards were earned for their imaginative room decorations . . . to promote a greater understanding of the functions of the executive committee meetings and members, a kickoff breakfast for the year's activities was held . . . the major money-making project, zip code directories, was presented in the form of a skit and proved, along with other projects, to be very successful . . .
